

MINNEAPOLIS KITCHEN & BATH

The 2026 Twin Cities Remodel Cost Guide

Real local pricing for kitchen and bathroom remodels across Minneapolis, Saint Paul, and the surrounding metro. No guesswork, no national averages.

Kitchen Remodel Costs

What Twin Cities homeowners actually spend, by project scope. Ranges reflect full-service remodels including labor, standard permits, and basic design time.

Typical project ranges

Budget Refresh

$15,000–$30,000

Cabinet paint/reface, new countertops, updated hardware & fixtures.

Mid-Range Full Remodel

$35,000–$75,000

Semi-custom cabinets, quartz countertops, new appliances, tile backsplash.

High-End Custom

$80,000–$150,000+

Custom cabinetry, premium appliances, structural changes, custom tile.

Base rate by finish tier

The single biggest driver is your finish tier, applied per square foot of kitchen floor area.

What Changes Your Number

Your city matters

Permit timelines, HOA requirements, and typical finish levels shift the base rate by neighborhood. The same scope can swing meaningfully depending on where you live in the metro.

AREA	COST FACTOR VS. MINNEAPOLIS
Minneapolis / Saint Paul	1.00x (baseline)
Edina / Wayzata	1.20x
Minnetonka, Eden Prairie, Bloomington, Plymouth, Maple Grove, Eagan, Burnsville, Richfield	0.95x

How the math works: base rate × square footage, plus the add-on scope you choose, adjusted by your city factor. Most real proposals land within roughly 15% below to 20% above that midpoint once final selections are locked.

The five biggest cost drivers

- Size in square feet — the base rate is applied per square foot, so footprint scales everything.
- Finish tier — budget vs. luxury can be a 4x to 6x difference on the base rate alone.
- Scope of work — structural changes and plumbing/electrical relocation add real cost when the layout moves.
- Your city — permitting overhead and finish expectations vary across the metro.
- Material lead times — custom cabinetry and stone can stretch timelines and budgets if ordered late.
